DOWNWARD COURSE

Fast Being Realized by Burlington People.

A little backache at first. Daily increasing till the back is lame and weak.

Urinary disorders quickly follow; Diabetes and finally Bright's disease.

This is the downward course of kidney ills.

Don't take this course. Follow the advice of a Burlington citizen.

Thos. Cushing, of 156 So. Battery St., Burlington, Vt., says: "I suffered terribly for ten or twelve years with spells of backache and pains in the hips. I had headaches and dizzy spells while at night I could not sleep well and would arise in the morning feeling tired and sore all over. The trouble was always more noticeable on a damp day or when I took cold. A friend advised me to use Doan's Kidney Pills sold at the Park drug store. I took his advice and began taking them. The first four doses seemed to relieve me and I continued to improve gradually until cured."

HORSES DROWNED.

Driver Also Went into the Water but Got Out.

A heavy team of horses belonging to Zoltke Gravel, and being used for hauling ice from the lake, broke through the ice at a spot just southeast of the Burlington breakwater Friday morning and were drowned. Frank Ruell, who was driving the team at the time, also went into the water with the horses and narrowly escaped drowning.

The team owned by Mr. Gravel was a heavy pair of bays, weighing about 2,900 pounds, and valued at about $600. They were being used for hauling ice from a spot a few hundred feet west of the breakwater to the shore. The course followed by the teams engaged in this work is around the south end of the breakwater, and thence in a northeasterly direction into the slip at the foot of Main street. This is the course also followed by the stage in the winter time. The team, being attached to a sled and drawing about 20 heavy cakes of ice, had made the trip around the breakwater towards the shore, when on reaching a point just southeast of the end of the breakwater, the ice suddenly gave way and the team, driver and load, fell into the water.

Frank Ruell, the driver, was pulled out, but the horses in the struggle for freedom became entangled in the heavy harness and drowned before they could be saved. They were later taken out of the water and hauled to one side on the firm ice. The sleds and harnesses were saved.

It is stated by old timers on the lake front that this portion of the lake just where the team went in is never safe, no matter how hard the lake freezes. The spot that the animals went in is called a "flotation" or a spot that is frozen in such a shape as to be unsafe. Work on the ice harvest was practically suspended Friday owing to the thaw and some parts of the lake being considered unsafe.

Mr. Gravel, whose team was lost in the accident in the morning, had an accident with another horse about noon. He was driving up South Winooski avenue, and in front of the Methodist Church the horse began to kick. After rendering the cutter useless, the animal was unhitched and led to the barn.

HUSBAND ALLEGES ABUSE.

Milton Man Seeks Divorce from Wife on This Ground.

The divorce petition of Edgar H. Gabree of Milton vs. Emma Gabree of the same town was filed Friday in Chittenden county court and in some respects presents novel aspects. The petitioner, who is represented by Mrs. Jessie L. Higwood, the only woman lawyer in Vermont, seeks separation from Mrs. Gabree on the ground that the latter on January 1, 1891, and continuously since that time, has treated him with great and intolerable severity.

Continuing, the petition sets forth that Mrs. Gabree has abandoned and deserted her husband on many occasions for several months at a time that she has been addicted to gross habits of drunkenness, has struck, beaten and otherwise ill-treated him and has also beaten and assaulted Eunice Gabree, their 15 years old daughter. The petition further alleges that Mrs. Gabree by reason of her vice habits and continual drunkenness is unfit to have any care or oversight of the child and that she has been restrained from interfering with the father's care of the child, as in the past she has interfered and threatened to do so in the future.
